DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-39 in the reply filed on 7/12/04 is acknowledged.

Claims 40-76 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1- 5, 13-16, 20-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ruark (US 5299280).

Ruark discloses the claimed invention including, inter alia, a liquid heating apparatus comprising a vessel for holding a liquid to be heated; a heating system for heating the liquid in the vessel; a jacket wall outwardly circumscribing said vessel and defining therewith an insulation space between said vessel and said jacket wall, said jacket wall having an opening therein; and an insulation dam structure including a hollow body portion having opposite open outer and inner sides spaced apart along an axis circumscribed by said body portion, a first sealing portion laterally projecting outwardly from said open outer side, a second sealing portion on said open inner side of said body portion, and a force exerting portion disposed axially inwardly of said first sealing portion, said insulation dam structure axially extending through said jacket wall opening with said first Sealing portion overlying an outer side portion of said jacket wall extending peripherally around said jacket wall opening, said second sealing portion overlying an outer surface portion of said vessel, and said force exerting portion holding said first sealing portion in an axially outwardly deformed sealing engagement with said outer side portion of said jacket wall, wherein said second sealing portion is a compressible sealing strip extending around the periphery of said upon inner side of said body portion, and said force exerting portion further forces said second sealing portion into sealing engagement with said outer surface portion of said vessel, wherein said compressible sealing strip has indentations formed therein (Figure 5) for sealingly receiving electrical wires, wherein said first sealing portion is a resiliently deflectable peripheral lip laterally sloped outwardly and toward said open inner side of said body portion, wherein said lip has a rectangular shape with first and second pairs of opposing said portions, the slopes of one of said pairs of opposing side portions being greater than the slopes of the other pair of opposing side portions, wherein said body portion has a generally rectangular shape, wherein said open inner side has a concave curvature.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ruark in view of Jackson et al. (US 6349169).

Art Unit: 3742

Ruark discloses the claimed invention except the use of a plurality of spaced apart snap fit structures. Jackson discloses a insulation dam structure similar to the dam of Ruark and to applicant's including a plurality of spaced apart snap fit structures as claimed by applicant. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, in view of Jackson, to modify the device of Ruark to use a plurality of spaced apart snap fit structures as claimed in order to provide for snap fit engagement in specific areas rather than around the entire periphery in order to reduce the chance of imperfections in the jacket opening acting to hinder the snap fit around the entire periphery.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 17-19, and 26-39 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
